Airport Offered Randall County

Decision Expected Next Week

A deal to make Tradewind a county-owned airport was offered Randall County commissioners again Monday.

Making the proposition was Shelby Kritser, owner of controlling interest in the airport. Kritser first approached the court last year.

About $1 million in revenue bonds would be required to make the purchase. The federal government would participate to the extent of about $370,000 in the purchase.

According to Kritser's plah, the revenue bonds would be serviced out of funds received for lease by Tradewind of the airport. At the end of 40 years the airport would belong to Randall County.

Kritser said the site already has been sanctioned by federal authorities as a secondary airport.

Kritser told the court that it soon may come to the point that his group will want to sell the site for development if it is not purchased by the county. He pointed out that if this should happen there would be no airport facility in the county.

Kritser said the future of the facility as a busy airport is virtually assured. He said Tradewind now handles 80 percent more traffic than does the municipal airport of Waco.

"This is the only way I know of to preserve this site as an airport," Kritser told the court. "I'd like to see it continue to be an airport 10, 15 and 20 years from now."

Tradewind went into operation as an airport in October of 1946.

A meeting of commissioners court has been called for 1:30

GEORGE NORMAN SMALL

Pioneer Area Builder Dies Here Tuesday

George Norman Small, 75, died here Tuesday in his home at 2106 Third Avenue.

Mr. Small was born August 23, 1887, in Hope, Arkansas. He was married in Winters, Texas, on August 13, 1908, and he and his wife, Etta, moved to Canyon from Eastland, Texas, 42 years ago.

He was a retired building contractor, having built Neblett Hospital and many homes here in Canyon. He was a member of the First Methodist Church here in Canyon.

Services were held yesterday at 3 p.m. in the LaGrone Funeral Chapel with Rev. Newton Starnes, pastor of the First Methodist Church, and Dr. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and Dr. James P. Cornette, officiating. Burial was in Memory Gardens Cemetery.

Pallbearers were James Cole, Levi Cole, Clay Cooper, Oscar Hinger, Tom Foster and J. B. Roberts.

Survivors include his wife, Etta; a daughter, Mrs. Marvin Fite of Canyon; three sons, Morris Small of Wichita Falls, Dr. Ray Small of El Paso, assistant to the president of Texas Western College, and Carl Small of Amarillo; two sisters, Mrs. Henry Mitchell of Abilene, and Mrs. Marie Jolly of Abilene; nine grandchildren; and eight great-grandchildren.

Court Skittish As Pay Hikes Are Considered

Randall County commissioners were as skittish around pay raises Tuesday as a colt around a rattlesnake.

They approached the distasteful matter, spooked and bolted, then edged up to it and walked stiff-legged past it.

At least two motions died for lack of seconds. Tempers flared between Taxman Bill Money and Commissioner B. R. Jones. The court stayed in session three hours.

In first action, the court adjusted the salary of justices of the peace to equal that of the county treasurer at $5,020.

A raise of $25 a month was granted to road crew foremen and a raise of $10 a month was given to road crew members.

Next motion to pass the court was one to raise all non-elected officials a flat 5 percent across the board.

At this point there was a heated exchange between Money and Jones. Money had asked for consideration of individual employes in his department.

The court then voted to raise the salaries of all elected officials, except county commissioners, a flat 5 percent. This brought the meeting to a close.

The pay raises were granted at a called meeting of the court.

Several counties over the Panhandle raised employes this week.

Golden Gloves Tournament Set Thursday

Canyon Boxing Club will play host to a Golden Glove Tournament here Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Chamber of Commerce board members are selling tickets. Admission is $3.50 a plate.

Feed Lot Plans Are Revealed

Three Amarillo men are seeking to establish a feed lot in the Canyon area, according to information received here this week.

City officials were approached for help in securing a government loan for the project. Mayor Delbert Lowes said the men are seeking assistance in securing a government loan to establish a $350,000 feed lot in the area.

A minimum of 30 acres of land would be needed for the the undertaking and the project would employ from 9 to 12 persons.

Its promoters said about 25,000 head of cattle would be fed there annually.

The Canyon area is favored because of the availability of feed stuff here.

Pete Cowart points out some of the features of the Panhandle Heritage Foundation's amphitheater in Palo Duro Canyon. He is showing the theater to Miss Ruth Baker (center) and Miss Anna Lee Anderson, both of Silverton. Miss Anderson was Pete's second grade teacher.

Heritage Members Hear Drama Script Experts

Moving quotations from preliminary script of Paul Green's Panhandle historic drama were heard by members of the Panhandle Heritage Foundation Sunday.

More than 50 persons from Canyon, Silverton, Littlefield, Hereford, Borger, Phillips, Tulia and Amarillo braved bitter cold to attend the meeting.

Reading the "script indication" were Bill Moore of the West Texas State drama department, Mrs. Bill Moore and Aaron Wertenberger and Martin McDonald, both WT students.

Moore read the part of the drama narrator, an old Panhandle cowman. Mrs. Moore read the part of the "voice of the canyon."

The script deals with the Texas Panhandle from the coming of Coronado. It tells the story of the battle of Adobe Walls and how the red men were driven from this country.

It speaks of the cattle barons who settled here, convinced that their Divine calling was that of raising beef to feed a growing country.

Then the story turns to the nester who brought to the Panhandle that "Devil's instrument," the plow. In the "script indication" there is reason to believe that the battle between the nester and the cowman for control of the land will be graphically told.

There will be scenes in Canyon, Amarillo, Clarendon, Austin and Old Mobeetie.

The group heard a report from Edith Eckhardt, executive secretary. Dr. Crannell Tolliver told the membership that the building committee he heads were pleased with the completed portion of the amphitheater.

The amphitheater is in a state of enough completion to be used at the present time. One unit is complete.

However, the concensus of the drama's promoters has been to delay production until 1964. Not only will this give more time to bring the production up to a high standard of excellence, but it also will permit the opening of the theater to coincide with the diamond anniversary of Randall County.

Mrs. Pete Cowart gave a report from the memorials committee.

Amendments to the Foundation by-laws, one increasing the size of the executive board and another increasing area representation on the board of directors, were passed.

New board members elected from Amarillo were Mrs. Dick Bell, R. C. Cline, Bob Crudgington, Norris Ewing, Dr. A. B. Goldston, Mrs. E. K. Jones, Mrs. Kenneth Lanham, Jack Little, Bob Mills, James Saunders, Mrs. R. D. Stone and Joe Wells.

Area board members include Mrs. Jack Allen, Perryton; Mrs. E. K. Caperton, Shamrock; Carl Maurer, Friona; Owen Norfleet, Olton; and Eugene Phillips, Panhandle.

Board members elected from Canyon include Dr. Leta Boswell, Mrs. Thomas MacOwan and Don Standley.

Presiding over the meeting was Mrs. Ples Harper, foundation president, who gave an annual report.

Several members of the group drove to the Canyon and inspected the completed wing of the amphitheater and then were guests of the Pete Cowarts for coffee.

Sub-Zero Cold Here

Sub-zero weather hit Canyon Thursday of last week causing wide-spread damage to water pipes and to tempers of folks who couldn't get their cars started.

Canyon stores did a land office business selling battery jumper cables and oil heating dip sticks until their supplies ran out.

Some folks were without wa-

Flames Damage House

Fire Monday night left a Canyon family of seven temporarily homeless.

Bitter cold hampered firemen's efforts to quell the blaze.

Heavily damaged by the flames was the Clifford Prichard residence a mile south of Canyon.

Prichard returned home about 7:30 o'clock to find the attic of the house on fire. Mrs. Prichard still was in Canyon.

Mrs. Prichard said four of their five children were in the house when it caught fire. The youngest child, Melody, 16 months, was with Prichard.

Mrs. Prichard said her husband tried to put out the fire while the oldest boy, Cliff, 10 years old, called the city fire department. Mrs. Prichard said she was very proud of the boy because he correctly told the fire department the address of the house and what was happening.

Mrs. Prichard said that soon after the fire started, her oldest daughter, Lola, 12, became hysterical because her black and white cat, Friday, was still in the burning house. The cat was a present for the girl's 11th birthday.

Mrs. Prichard said the cat

SCHOOL VOTE PLANS MADE

Canyon school board Tuesday night held an executive session, presumably to discuss personnel matters.

Board president, Bob Wear, emphasized that votes of the board would be taken only in open session.

The board in open session earlier made arrangements for the April 6 school board election. The election will be held at Legion Hall.

Election judge will be A. L. Crossland. Clerks will be Mrs. E. A. Michael, Mrs. Hud Prichard and Lynn Bennett.

The board heard a report from Lee Foster, tax assessor and collector.

Superintendent Joe Gibson told members of the board that efforts to secure the refunding of a 1958 bond issue of $585,000 has been fruitless so far.

Gibson reported on the school's work toward self-evaluation. The faculty has been assisted in this endeavor by Huelyn Laycock and Emmett Smith, members of the West Texas State College faculty.

School board member, Joe Gill, reported on a study of the school's scholarship program. His report dealt principally with the National Honor Society.

No decision was made regarding this program.

The board discussed a tax sheltered annuity plan for members of the faculty.

The athletic budget was discussed and then plans were made to put cinders from the Amarillo smelter on the school's track.

As the board adjourned President Wear announced a called meeting for 7:30 o'clock next Tuesday night.

City Dads Hear Capital Report

Canyon's Capital Improvements Study Committee made its first report to the city commission Monday night and held a three-hour discussion period with the city fathers.

Under intensive study at the present time is sewerage, drainage and water problems.

Meeting with the group were City Engineer Bill McMorries and his assistant, Glen Sparkman.

The committee is studying capital improvements for a five year period.

No conclusions were reached and no recommendations were made by the committee at the Monday night meeting.

In other actions, the city commission authorized advertisement for bids of a new police car. The bids will be opened Feb. 11.

The commission also authorized payment of one half the cost of locks to be put on storage places of civil defense supplies for buildings designated as fall out shelters here in Canyon. The county has been asked to bear half the cost of the locks.

City Manager Bill York estimates the cost will come to about $40.

The city is studying the possibility of installing a water softener to soften all city water. City officials have noted that city water is becoming increasingly harder.

School Census Nearing Finish

School census must be completed by Jan. 31, according to Lee Foster of the school Tax office.

Foster said children who will have reached 6 years of age and who will be younger than 18 as of Sept. 1, 1963, must be enumerated. He urged parents of children in this category to contact his office on the ground floor of the court house.

Hales Youngsters Top Winners In Stock Show

Last week was a big week for the Hales family of Canyon.

Big brother, Chester, exhibited the grand champion steer at the Randall County Junior Livestock Show. Little sister, Sherry, showed the reserve champion.

Cousin Rick took his dairy heifer into the winner's circle.

Good crowds attended both days of the show and about 400 were on hand for the sale Saturday night. The show was unreeled at the Junior Livestock Building.

Exhibits and viewers basked in comfortable temperatures inside the fine livestock pavilion while the mercury dipped well below zero outside.

Livestock Association officials said Saturday night's sale was one of the most spirited in the history of the show.

The grand champion steer, an angus, sold for $1.01 a pound to W. E. Hill & Sons Feed Store of Canyon and tipped the scales at 849 pounds to bring $857.49.

The reserve champion, a hereford, was purchased at 41 cents a pound by Cole & Moore of Canyon. He weighed 761 pounds and brought $312.01.

Chester and Sherry are children of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Hales. Their father is a dairyman and stock farmer and lives 10 miles west of Canyon.

Chester is 13 years old and a member of the 4-H Club. Sherry is 8 years old and also is a 4-Her. County Agent John Brazzil says both youngsters actually feed and attend to their livestock.

Rick Hales is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richmond Hales. He showed a Holestein. The father is a diary farmer.

Grand champion barrow of the show was exhibited by Chuck Smallwood and weighed 210 pounds. It brought $1.85 a pound and sold for $388.50. It was a Hampshire. It was bought by Taylor-Evans Farm Stor of Happy.

Reserve champion barrow, a Duroc, was shown by Dan Rahlfs of Happy. The animal weighed 220 pounds, brought 75 cents a pound and sold to Taylor-Evans Farm Store of Canyon for $165.00

The champion crossbreed lamb was shown by Larry Miller and was purchased by Kuhlman TV Service at 55 cents a pound. It brought $60.50.

Bill Miller of Canyon showed the champion Southdown. It was bought by Imperial Chevrolet. The animal weighed 100 pounds and brought $54.00 for 54 cents a pound.

Brazzil said 62 buyers from all over the area participated in the sale.

Brazzil said 52 lambs, 65 swine and 18 steers were auctioned at the sale. Average price for lambs was $45.15 per hundred; $37.86 for swine and $39.44 for steers.

The sale clerks were Joe Gibson, Lee Foster and W. C. Miller. General superintendent was JoZach Byrd.

President of the Randall County Junior Livestock Association is Emil Olson and superintendent of the dairy cattle show was Louis Hinders.

Superintendent for beef cattle was C.W. Robinson. Superintendent of the horse show was R.B. Allen and James Bible was superintendent of the swine show. Superintendent of

Buffs Outclass Aggies In Field House Battle

Scottie Pierce, Bobby Roland, and Dale Burrows combined to keep the West Texas State Buffaloes' basketball victory skein alive with a 75-64 win over the New Mexico State Aggies last Saturday night at the WT Field House.

Pierce was unstoppable as he bucketed 38 points -- over half of the total team points -- and took down more rebounds than any other player. The load was placed on Pierce's tall 6-8 frame when 6-8 Frank Schaffer was tripped up during a practice session and broke both bones in his right wrist.

The Buffs own wins over Northwestern La. University, 75-66, New Mexico University, 63-58, Eastern New Mexico University, 84-49, and now the Aggies from Las Cruces. Hoping to keep their four-game string intact, the Buffs travel to Abilene Christian College and Hardin-Simmons this weekend before returning home for a four-game home stand. One of the teams during the four-game stretch will be Texas Western.

Texas Western has lost games to Arizona State and Illinois by three points each. Arizona State University is the third-ranked team in the nation according to all polls as Illinois is the fifth-ranked. The Miners from TWC are also ranked in the nation's top twenty.

Misfortune struck the basketball fortunes of West Texas State when Schaffer had his mishap. He collided with another player during a scrimmage and fell in an awkward manner and when he braced himself with his hand, it broke both of his wrist bones.

His replacement who just came off the injury list as Schaffer went on is 6-7 sophomore from Albuquerque, N.M., Dale Burrows. Burrows injured his right leg during his freshman year of ball at WT and was to have been red-shirted for the remainder of this season to preserve his eligibility.

Burrows came through with eight points and seven rebounds in his first college varsity tilt. He has to play with a restrainer on his leg which hampers him only slightly. Burrows led Albuquerque Highland to the New Mexico state tournament three years in a row.

Schaffer will be ready to play at the beginning of the next season and will have three semesters of eligibility left. Burrows will be charged with a whole season since he has already played in the Fall Semester.

New Mexico teams haven't fared too well at the WT Field House as all three have fallen by the wayside. The game proved to be one of the roughest (or poorest called) as there were a total of 55 fouls called on both teams.

The Aggies took an early lead after less than two minutes had expired and kept it until there was 9:13 remaining in the first half and Pierce connected for a 14-12 lead as the teams were bitterly engaged in a fine defensive battle.

Although coming close many times, New Mexico State could never again regain the lead. However, sparked by Charles Matthews, the nation's third-best field goal percentage shooter going into the game, the Aggies came within a field goal at 18:37 of the second half, 29-27.

After falling behind by eight markers, the never-say-die boys from Las Cruces utilized Charles Lindsey's field goal to pull within a 45-44 deficit halfway through the second half.

At this point the complexion of the game changed with the help of buckets from Vernon Welch and Burrows.

Pierce was hot in the second half and had runs of four and five points each which put West Texas in its biggest lead of the game, 69-55. New Mexico State's David Kilburn hit a last seconds field goal and the buzzer ruined the Buffs efforts for another field goal. The Buffs also practiced its unique stall in the last five minutes of the game.

The game was won from the field as West Texas connected for 25 goals and New Mexico made a mere 15. The Aggies did manage a 34-25 edge in the free throw department. In rebounds, the Buffs outclassed the shorter Aggies 54-37.

Eagles Win First Two Conference Cage Games

Canyon Eagles won their first game of the 2-AA district games Friday when they stomped the Floydada whirlwinds 58 to 53 and then topped Lockney 58-48 Tuesday.

The Eagles led the Whirlwinds all the way. Score by quarters was 20 to 9, Canyon first quarter; 42 to 22, Canyon at the half time buzzer; 48 to 30, Canyon at the end of the third quarter and the final score of 58 to 53 at the end of the game.

Bob Begert, senior center and top scorer for the Eagles, led the way with 24 of the 58 Canyon points, giving Begert a season total of 349 points as of the Floydada game. This is a 17.5 points per game average.

Eddie Poole, junior forward for the Eagles was second high scorer with 10 points. Glenn Metcalf, senior guard had 10 points also and Harry Lisle scored 8 points Lisle is a senior guard.

The game with Floydada was the first of the 2-AA district games of the season counting for the district championship.

The Eagles girls varsity team played the Floydada girls team Friday. Floydada won 53 to 36.

The Eagles boys varsity played the Lockney Longhorns Tuesday night for the second of the 2-AA district games, beating the Longhorns 58 to 48.

Eagle coach Allen Simpson said the Longhorns were favored to win the district 2-AA championships. It was the first of the district games for Lockney. The win gives the Canyon Eagles a two win-no loss district record for this season.

Eagle high scorer in the game with the Lockney Longhorns was again Begert, even though he only played the first half of the game. Coach Simpson said he put Begert out of the game at half time because he earned 4 fouls in the first half as well as the 18 points he scored. Begert's total season score as of the Lockney game was 367 points for the Eagles.

Second high scorer for the Eagles was Harry Lisle who came home with 15 points. Eddie Poole, junior forward earned 10 points, Steve Burgess got 6 points and Don Breitling 5 points.

Simpson said that Davis Price, who only scored 2 points in the game with the Longhorns, led the Eagles team in rebounding and carried on a terrific defense throughout the game.

Eagles girls basketball varsity played the Lockney girls team Tuesday. Lockney won 54 to 47.

Simpson said that even though the Eagles girls team lost the game, it was the best game they had played all season. He said the girls varsity is improving with each game.

Kaydean Barnard scored 20 of the girls 47 points. She is a sophomore forward. Jan Jarnagin, sophomore forward scored 15 points and Ruth Purcell, junior forward scored 12 points.

Eagles coach Simpson said the next four 2-AA district games for the Eagles will all be away games. The Eagles play Abernathy there, January 22; Tulia there, January 25; Floydada there, January 29 and on February 1, the Eagles will lock horns with the Lockney crew in Lockney.

The scant snowfall was dry and was of little benefit to agriculture. Cowmen were forced into the blue cold as feeding became a must.

County Agent John Brazzil said loss of livestock, if any, was negligible. Weather Bureau warnings of a cold wave approaching the Panhandle gave stock raisers ample time to protect their stock, he said.

The US Weather Bureau said high temperature for the week ending Tuesday was 42 degrees recorded Thursday of last week. Low for the week was Saturday when the mercury went 9 below zero.

No hardship cases were reported.

Firemen were hampered by freezing over of equipment at fires to which they were called during the cold spell.

o'clock the afternoon of Jan. 23 to discuss the proposition further. Kritser told commissioners that action must be taken by Feb. 1 if federal funds are to be obtained for the project this year.

The city fire contract came up again Monday. B. R. Jones reiterated his stand that Amarillo Fire Department is not being treated fairly.

Amarillo, Canyon and Happy Fire Departments each receive $100 for making rural calls. Canyon is furnished a fire truck by the county and the other two towns are not. Canyon does the bulk of the county's rural fire fighting.

Last year, Canyon answered 66 rural fire calls while Amarillo answered only 19.

The truck furnished the city by the county is used principally for fighting rural fires and is an ideal piece of equipment for fighting grass fires.

County Auditor E. T. Cummings said that an additional $30 per fire for the Amarillo Fire Department probably would be sufficient to offset any advantage enjoyed by Canyon.

Commissioner Bill Butler suggested that Amarillo's payment for answering such calls be boosted to $130 a call. He pointed out that this would amount to an additional expenditure by the county of only about $600 a year.

During the past year the county has had to pay double on occasions when fires have been answered by both Amarillo and Canyon departments. Butler suggested that the fees be cut in half for each department when this happens.

Fuss over the fire contract flared last summer when former Commissioner C. Y. Johnson introduced a motion to unilaterally revise the contract with the city of Canyon. The motion passed the court but never was enforced.

County Attorney A. W. Lair told the court at the time that enforcement of the resolution would amount to breach of contract.

Cummings is preparing some comparative figures on the Amarillo and Canyon Fire Department payments for consideration by the court next week.

The court also purchased four desks for the county clerk's office. The bid went to Elliott Office Supply of Amarillo on a bid of $905.

Commissioners authorized advertising for bids for county fuel and a county depository. They wound up Monday's meeting with a tour of the county jail.

Big Sheep Now Roam Palo Duro

Big game hunters soon may be coming to the Canyon area to try their luck at bagging one of the world's most elusive animals.

P. K. Evans, a government game biologist, is here checking on the barbary sheep populations in the rough range terrain of Palo Duro Canyon.

Weldon Fromm, with the state game and fish commission, said Evans is here to get an estimate on the barbary sheep population to determine if an open season is feasible.

Fromm said 31 head of the animals were turned loose in Palo Duro just below Palo Duro State Park about five years ago. An additional 13 were freed east of Silverton along the Caprock.

Fromm said Evans is not expected to get an exact count. So shy and wild are barbary sheep that he will be doing fine if he catches a glimpse of a few. An estimate is not expected before spring.

Jack Hughes, with the WT faculty, said he saw a herd of the sheep some time ago. "I just saw them in the distance southwest of Claude as they went over a Canyon rim."

Barbary sheep are natives of the Middle East. They are very sure-footed creatures and can climb almost sheer cliffs.

Around The Town

Congratulations and best wishes are in order for Dick Shaw and his bride Jerry who were married in Lubbock ten days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hammond returned from Mississippi hoping to get started on their new house, only to have an accident occur to Mrs. Hammond Tuesday. While helping a cousin who had come home from the hospital after having surgery, Mrs. Hammond tripped and fell on a stepdown and broke her hip. We all wish her a speedy recovery.

Speaking of fellow townsmen in the hospital, reports are that Margaret MacOwan may be able to come home from the hospital this week. Margaret was injured when the train lurched as it was entering Amarillo as she and Tom were returning from Christmas vacation, and Margaret's back was injured. She has been in traction all this time, so we hope that reports are true and she returns home soon.

Mrs. Ross Service who visited her son Don, his wife Jan and their four children in Grand Junction, Colo., during the month of December, returned last week. She reports that her other son Tommy and his wife Thelma of Odessa joined them for Christmas in Colorado, and they had their first complete family Christmas in a number of years.

The O.A. Smiths have recently returned from California where they visited with theirson, Dr. Lowell Smith and his family in San Fran-

Swine judging started off the livestock show Saturday morning with Gene Gaston, vocational agriculture teacher at Springlake High School, as judge.

Livestock show officials said the swine judging was the largest department of the show with 65 head entered.

These 65 head were those swine remaining after a sifting committee from the West Texas State College agriculture department and removed 32 swine from an original 97 as not meeting the high standards of the Randall County show.

Grand champion of the swine judging was a Hampshire shown by Chuck Smallwood. Reserve grand champion swine was a Duroc by Don Rahlfs of Happy. Rahlfs' Duroc also won first place in the Duroc breed class. Smallwood's Hampshire also placed top in the Hampshire breed class.

Other breed class winners were as follows:

Spotted Poland China--Tom Sanford, first place; Gregg Stork, second place.

Duroc--Dan Ralph, first place; Dan Ralph second place.

The Fat sheep show, was judged by Calvin Horn, vocational agriculture teacher from Olton.

The Southdown class champion of the breed was shown by Bill Miller. The Crossbreed champion was shown by Larry Miller.

Following the sheep was the final big event of the 1963 Junior Livestock Show--the selection of the 1963 grand champion and reserve champion beef steers.

was later found huddled under a table in the burning house and was delivered safely to the girl.

Prichard works days as a carpenter and nights at the American Smelting and Refining Company in Amarillo.

The Prichards stayed Monday night with their neighbors, the Werner Henscheids.

Mrs. Prichard said they are looking for a house or apartment to rent in Canyon until they can build a new house or move another on to the site of the one which burned.

City Fire Captain Joe Rice said the fire was caused when a faulty wire in the attic of the Prichard residence shorted out, setting the roof on fire.

Rice said the fire had broken through the roof of the wooden frame house by the time the fire department got to the scene.

He said the fire fighters were handicapped from the start by a shortage of water, frozen hose nozzles and slippery ice that covered everything.

Rice said that valuable minutes were lost in fighting the fire when the electrical system of the county fire truck failed, shutting off the water supply to the fire hoses.

He said the fire department fought the blaze until 11:00 o'clock when they were forced to give the house up as a total loss.

Rice said that although the house was a loss, nearly all the household furnishings were saved. He said there would be some smoke damage to clothing and bedding.

Spectators who arrived on the scene carried out most of the family's belongings.

Firechief Bill Sternenberg suffered a minor leg injury when he fell while fighting the fire.

Tax Guide Available

The 1963 edition of the Farmer's Tax Guide put out by the Internal Revenue Service is available now in county agent John Brazzil's office.

The new tax guide reflects the latest changes in the federal tax laws affecting the farmer. The Revenue Act of 1962 made some revisions in federal tax laws that will affect farmer's payment of federal taxes, according to the guide.

The new edition contains a 1963 Tax Calendar which tells the farmer when to pay his taxes, file his returns and do other things required by law.

The tax guide also includes for the farmer's convenience a check list of farm income and expenses and a sample income tax return, filled in with explanations.

The guide offers the farmer advice on ways to keep good records of farm expenses that are tax deductable, such as oils and greases for farm machinery, sprays and disinfectants for dairy barns, shingles for repairing barn roofs and even subscriptions to farm newspapers, magazines and the like.

The 64 page tax guide is free and may be picked up during regular office hours at the county agent's office in the court house.

Hilltop Views

With apologies for the personal element in today's article I wish to make a few observations on education.

By invitation of Mrs. Lee Foster, dynamic teacher of speech in Canyon High School, Mrs. Hill and I and Mr. Jerry LaGrone spent a class period last week observing a unique project which Mrs. Foster has underway in her department. In fact, I spent two such periods.

Using my booklet, "I Hold The Key, or My Success Depends on Me" as a source for subject-matter each student had prepared an original talk or speech on some theme pertaining to life-building. It was my privilege to hear seven of them in two class-hours.

My reaction to this experiment may be summed up in these words: "I wish every adult citizen in Canyon could hear what I heard. The way those high school seniors can think and talk was truly inspiring: and what they think and say is equally so. If all high school seniors in this country were on a level with the seven I heard this nation would experience an uplift in the near future." Hats off to Mrs. Foster and to all other excellent teachers in Canyon Public Schools!

This leads me to make this further observation. In my opinion Canyon is exceedingly fortunate in being the home of a teacher factory---West Texas State College. It gives us a body of teachers of more than average professional preparation, experience, and teaching ability.

By a strange coincidence the very day I came back from Canyon High I found in an editorial in The Tulia Herald some statements about education that started another chain reaction. I quote:

"Of interest to high school students should be the fact that two of every three unemployed persons in the United States are not high school graduates. And it is estimated that by 1970, only five per cent of the available jobs can be performed by persons who are not high school graduates.

"Today skilled help is almost unobtainable. We know of a store that had to go out of business because the owners could not find a manager. We know of newspapers that have been forced to hire their papers printed in other shops because they couldn't find competent printers. There are sizeable towns, that have no hope of ever having a doctor, lawyer or dentist. A telephone company official told us that many of the innovations in telephone service are unavailable now only because they do not have technicians to operate the equipment. Radio engineers are so scarce that in many cases several stations have to share one man. The teacher shortage is well know. Competent secretaries are almost non-existent.

"While all these openings go begging, we have unemployed men walking the streets, unable to find an unskilled job."

Of course, this situation is due in large part to our sudden, swift move into a technological civilization. Also, it explains some of the exploding growth in school and college enrollment. It accounts for the near revolution that is taking place in the American concept of the nature and purpose of education. As implied in the Baggarly editorial, the kid better get an education now in order to save our national hide and beat somebody to the moon. This latter is one of the factors that is behind the drive for federal aid to education.

I do not deny the need everyone has for qualifications that enable him to make an independent livelihood. Such preparation is highly desireable if not absolutely essential. But a curriculum loaded with science will not of itself best prepare the individual for vocational efficiency or the nation for adequate defense. This is true becuase it slants toward materialism; and materialism slants away from those moral and spiritual values that constitute bone and sinew of both personal and collective strength in such a republic as ours.

As this column has so often said, it now repeats: crass materialism is doing this country more harm today than is communism, and I know no one who has less regard for that political humbug (Sovietism) than I have.

The evidence that sustains my contention here is all about us every day---in the rapid increase of crime, in the growth of individual and corporate dishonesty and malpractice, in the brazen lawlessness and defiance of the liquor traffic, in the wise-spread, wilful violation of law at all levels of society, in the multiplication of courts and fat statute books, in political skulduggery, and in various other forms of degeneracy. Materialism is rampant.

It seems to this column that the above indisputable facts make it imperative that schools and colleges must balance the growing weight of materialism, augmented by the wizardry of science, with an equal or greater weight of subject-matter that points toward life's highest values--such subjects as the languages and literature, the fine arts, philosophy, history, economics, government, sociology, education, and perhaps other like areas of human welfare.

TELEPHONE TALK

by Gene Adkisson, Manager

AND NOW IT'S 1963

Do you ever get the feeling the years are going by faster than they used to? Seems as if I'd hardly become acquainted with 1962 when 1963 came barging in.

Personally, I'll miss 1962. It was a good year, but I know in time I'll get to know 1963 and like it just as well. A new year, like a new pair of shoes, takes some getting used to.

LOOKING BACK

In the telephone business, there's not much time for looking back. There's too much ahead.

Still, I'd like to tell you a few highlights of 1962 as I saw them from my job with Southwestern Bell.

The most spectacular telephone news in 1962 was--you guessed it--Telstar , the world's first active communications satellite. If ever there was a doubt about which nation leads the world in modern communications--Telstar settled the issue with a bang.

Not all telephone progress in 1962 was as dramatic. Many unspectacular--but vitally important--advances were made in providing you with better service.

For example, we worked hard on stormproofing the long distance network by placing more telephone cables underground and using more microwave radio relay. This helps us beat the weather by providing insurance against breaks, leaks and other malfunctions.

Another project was our cable "pressurization" program. Dry air is pumped through telephone cables and helps keep moisture out if a cable develops a leak. Also, the reduced pressure helps us spot the trouble and fix it...usually before it affects your service.

Another big improvement in 1962 was the addition of many tiny voice amplifiers to our telephone lines. These "voice boosters" put new pep in your phone: Whether you telephone across town, across the state, or across the nation, your voice comes through clear and strong.

In Canyon, telephone progress was made in 1962 with the addition of 196 more telephones here. This means you can now reach more people with your telephone--making your service more valuable to you than ever.

ONE LAST THOUGHT

Our never-ending goal is to improve your telephone service and make it more valuable to you. And a happy 1963 to you from all of us at Southwestern Bell!

WHAT KIND OF A DISCOUNT?

Lately, the most used word of many advertisers seems to be "Discount." They give the impression that these firms are in business to sell things below their cost. Suddenly they have become philanthropists.

Of course you know such selling is not continuously possible. Either the price on "blind" articles of their own or unknown makes is higher, or service is discounted to a minimum. We continue our policy of dependability, fair prices and every possible service to please you.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

Randall County commissioners will be meeting next Wednesday afternoon to look a gift horse in the mouth.

Tradewinds Airport group, Shelby Kritser, owner of controlling interest, has agreed to sell the airport to the county in such a manner that it would appear to be a gift.

If the county agrees to go along, Uncle Sam will foot a big portion of the bill. The rest could be financed with 40 year revenue bonds. Kritser told the commissioners court Monday that his firm would lease the airport back from the county for enough to service the bonds.

In addition to being able to get the federal government to put up a big chunk of the money for the original purchase, the county can also get some participation in operation of the field which is not available to the present Tradewind firm.

We are thinking specifically of a control tower.

The way we see it from the road, the deal will allow the present operators of Tradewind to tap the federal government for some ready cash get some free help from the federal government in operating the airport and save a chunk of county, state and local taxes to boot. When the county assumes ownership, the property becomes non-taxable.

Here's how we see the plus side for the county. The county is getting only about $700 a year in taxes out of the property at the present time, according to Kritser. At the end of 40 years Randall County would own the airport outright. It's darned nice that the property will go to our grandchildren in 40 years since we'll be asking the federal government to participate in the purchase and those grandchildren are going to have to pay for it anyway.

Kritser's company owns a block of about 600 acres of land around the airport. He said he already has been offered more than $2 million for the property for development. This we can readily believe. It is located in a rapidly developing section of the county adjacent to southeast Amarillo.

The property, no doubt, will become more valuable as time goes by. There may come a time when the Tradewind group will find it more profitable to develop the property than to operate it as an airport.

In this event, Randall County no longer would have an airport. The only other way the county could get an airport would be to float a bond issue. We doubt that such a bond issue would pass.

Randall County needs an airport. Because of its proximity to Amarillo, Tradewind may not be an ideal location for an airport but the fact remains that it is an airport and as such it is valuable to the development of Randall County.

At least some excuse for federal participation may be found in the fact that in case of emergency Tradewind might have military value.

The decision likely will be made by the commissioners next week as the request for federal funds must be made by mid-February in order to get consideration this year.

We think the county has found an able leader in Bill Butler, the new commissioner from South Amarillo. Bill doesn't even pretend to be a politician. He openly declares that he intends to act for the best interests of the county and his constituents while he is a member of the court.

So far, our freshman commissioner has had a fair, intelligent approach to county problems, especially those with a north south flavor.

We'll match our commissioners court against any in Texas for fairness and integrity. It looks like Randall County has embarked on a new era of cooperation and progress.

So help me this really happened.

A friend of ours said she had been trying through more than a dozen years since her marriage to get her husband to sing in church. He always refused to open his mouth.

"Last Sunday he did," she related sadly. "After hearing him, I won't be fussing at him to sing anymore."

Last week we had a note about Irby Carruth, superintendent of Austin Public Schools and currently head of the American School Administrators Association.

Louis Hinders informed us the latter part of the week that Carruth is a son-in-law of Mrs. Ida Bradford of Canyon. Carruth married the former Tip Bradford. Mrs. Carruth also is a sister of Mrs. W. C. Black.

Clarence Eugene Thompson, who is somewhat of a philosopher, observed at the stock show the other night that 4-H and FFA teach agriculturally-minded youngsters something practical.

"It is a shame that similar training is not available in other fields," he declared. "We need more vocational training on the high school level."

While most stock shows scheduled last week in this area were called off because of inclement weather, Randall County's show went on as scheduled in the fine livestock building here.

As a matter of fact, Canyon had one of the best shows on record.

"This building made a good downpayment on itself today," exulted Ed Dwyer, vocational agriculture instructor at CHS.

Taylor-Evans can fill every fertilizer need of both the dry land and irrigated farmers. Taylor-Evans has the newest, latest and best equipment for giving the farmer the best results with the application of anhydrous ammonia.

Taylor-Evans take the responsibility of getting the ammonia to the farmer's land, putting it on the crops and showing the farmer how to apply it.

They have custom applicators which make the application easier and faster for the farmer. They furnish everything and the farmer doesn't have to worry about anything.

All 1,000 gallon trucks owned and operated by Taylor-Evans have vapor pumps. After filling the tanks, the men at Taylor-Evans deliver the ammonia to the turn row and hook the rigs up for the farmer.

"We can fill a tank in about 20 minutes," says Virgil Slentz.

The only thing the farmer has to do is furnish a tractor and driver and Taylor-Evans will hook up the equipment and show the driver how to operate it. All this service is available for no extra cost.

And after the ammonia has been applied the results speak for themsleves.

Since this is the time to use anhydrous ammonia, Taylor-Evans invites you to come in and inquire about their credit plan . . and do it now.

Buff Players Attend Party For Oldest Fan

Four West Texas State football players brought extra joy and pleasure to the birthday celebration of Billy Frost of Pampa, Texas, as he observed his 100th birthday last Thursday, January 10.

Uncle Billy , as he is affectionaltely called by all who know him, is an uncle of Mrs. Hugh T. Greiner of Canyon, and has long been a fan of West Texas. He asked Warren Hasse, associated with one of the Pampa radio stations, to invite some of the football players, to his birthday party. Jerry Logan, Jim Dawson, Jim Denney, and Stu Johnson were contacted, and graciously consented to attend the affair.

A reception honoring Uncle Billy was held in the Coronado Inn in Pampa from 3 to 5 in the afternoon. A dinner sponsored by the First National Bank and Dunnigan Oil Company was held in the evening at the Coronado Inn for him and his family. Approximately 500 friends and relatives attended.

Uncle Billy is the oldest living member of his family and is thought to be the oldest living fan of West Texas State.

His brother Burt from Toledo, Ohio, who is the youngest of Uncle Billy's immediate family was in town for the affair. But is 86.

Also present were Uncle Billy's only living son, Charles, who is 75, from Canye, Kansas; several nieces; a son-in-law; and a grandson who has two boys of his own. Altogether four generations were represented.

His niece, Mrs. Greiner, said that Uncle Billy is spry for his age, and had an enjoyable time on his birthday. "He danced and cut up," she said. "and he calls his brother, son, and son-in-law 'the kids'. He's quite a character."

Receipts Up At Local PO

The recent increase in postal rates has caused quite a flurry in the nation's post offices.

Crowds of people have been lined up in the various post offices trying to purchase one cent and the new five cent stamps.

The recent postal increases raised the price of first class mail from four to five cents per letter. Post cards were also raised from three cents to four cents. The days of the penny post card are long gone.

Air mail which once was four cents is now way up there at eight cents per letter.

Despite the continual increases in federal postage costs the post office doesn't seem to be losing any business.

Canyon Postmaster W. M. Higdon reports that Canyon post office receipts for 1962 are up 10% over 1961. Receipts in 1961 were $76,771.07 and receipts for 1962 were $85,439.90, a gain of $8,668.83.

Cornette Has Minor Surgery

North Randall News

The Greenhaven County Home Demonstration Club held its first meeting of the year in the home of Mrs. J. H. Parker, 1518 Milam, Amarillo.

New officers for the 1963 period were installed. They are: Mrs. Sol Johnston, president; Mrs. John McClure, vice-president; Mrs. J. B. Russell, secretary; Mrs. Z. J. Fairchild, treasurer; Mrs. Clyde Love, council representative; and Mrs. Glenn H. Laing, reporter.

The president appointed the committees to cover this years' program. Each of the seventeen members present answered the roll call by giving a New Years' resolution as their name was called. Tiny sandwiches, cakes, and coffee were served as refreshments.

A meeting of the Den Mothers of Pack 97, Canyon, was held in the home of Mrs. Roy Cates, 7922 Goodnight Trail, recently. Purpose of the meeting was to meet with Mr. John Bloomshield, a Scout executive with the Llano Estacado Council in Amarillo.

It was a question and answer session on helps to the Den Mothers and Pack.

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. Wayne Wirt, Mrs. Clifford Prichard, Mrs. Joanne Hicks, Mrs. Tony Rusk, Mrs. Don Masterson, and Mrs. Meade Michale. Refreshments of coffee and doughnuts were served.

Mrs. J. B. Raymond is in Oklahoma City with her son, Donald Ray Rhodes. Donald is in Deaconess Hospital there, where he has undergone surgery on his shoulder. Understand he is progressing nicely! "Get Well Quick, Donald!"

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thomas and family are new neighbors at 7510 Lamount Drive. The family includes Mr. and Mrs. Thomas and two children, Beth and Allen (both school age) from Amarillo.

Saturday night, January 5th, was the night neighbors chose to honor the V. L. Yarbroughs with a 42 party.

The Yarbroughs had previously intended to move to Eric, Oklahoma, but decided to stay on here. So forty-five to fifty guests from the east Randall County area shared in a wonderful time celebrating the occasion! Pies, rolls, and coffee were served for refreshments.

Mr and Mrs. Bob Baker and their family of five sons are new neighbors on Duling Lane. Understand that four of the five boys are already enrolled in the Canyon School system and think it is great. Welcome to the Bakers from neighbors!

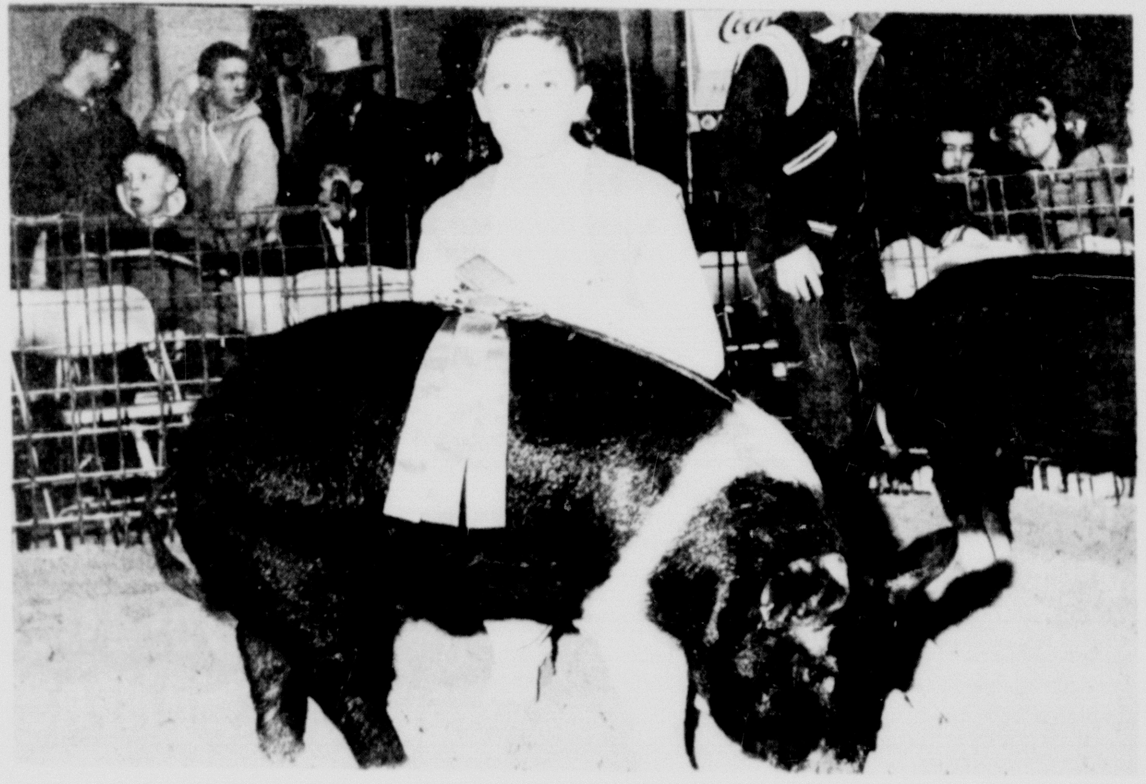
Den 3 and Den 6 of Pack 97 had a Flag Burning Ceremony Wednesday afternoon (the 9th of January). The flag was burned using the proper procedure prepared by the American Legion Manual.

Mrs. Tony Rusk read the ceremony and Don Edmondson, den chief, led the Color Guard. Mrs. Roy Cates led the prayer. The Color Guard was formed by Duane Harp, Ronnie Kestler, Mike Cooke, and Danny Davis.

Booklets were passed out on the "Etiquette of the Stars and Stripes" and cards with the American Creed and the Pledge of Allegience were also distributed. The ceremony made quite an impression on all the boys attending the meeting.

Staff Sgt. and Mrs. Walter Cooke and family are no longer neighbors and we hated to see them go. They moved to Amarillo a couple of weeks ago. Since Walter is stationed at Amarillo Air Base, we know he will be closer to his work, but I'm sure they will be missed!

More new neighbors on Lamount Drive! This time at 7514 and they are Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Roberts and family. They moved out to this area right before Christmas but this was our first chance to acknowledge their presence. Hope you enjoy living in our neighborhood!



Chuck Smallwood exhibits the champion Hampshire barrow. The barrow won grand champion honors of the show.

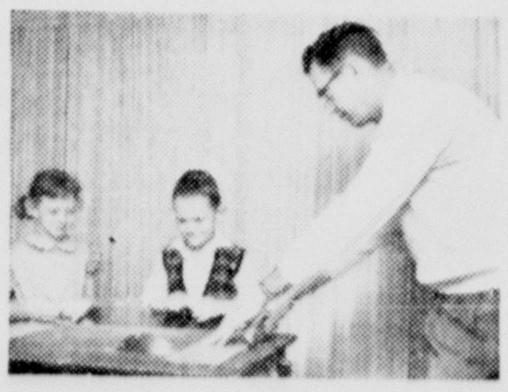
The Dales believe in investing much of their time with their three children, Karen, 6; Marilyn, 4; and Kenny, 5. The warm floors that their electric heating gives them make it possible for the Dales to enjoy games with their children, informally, on the living room floor.

Mrs. Dale touches up a desk built by Mr. Dale in his garage workshop. Marilyn, an interested spectator, indicates her desire to help in such a fascinating project.


Mr. Dale, a teacher, by profession, instructs Karen and Kenny on the importance of safely using power tools in his woodworking hobby.
"We wouldn't go back to any other kind of heating," say the HARRY DALES of 313 E. Church, Roswell, N. M.
"Even on the coldest day, 23 degrees below, we were completely comfortable," says Mrs. Dale. The Dales' experience with electric heating shows that this modern heating method is capable of delivering true comfort, over-all warmth no matter what the outside weather. The Dales use infra-red wall panels in their heating system. Other types of electric heating equipment are: ceiling cable, completely concealed in the ceiling; baseboard units; electric furnace, and electric heat pump that both heats and cools. One of these modern electric heating methods will fit into your home.

Gersavi Paintings Now On Display At Museum

BY JIM THOMAS

Panhandle Plains Museum, has secured for exhibition another series of notable paintings of the Southwest.
able paintings of the Southwest.

The water color and oil paintings of a talented new artist--Frank Gervasi, are now on display at the museum. Gervasi is a member of the National Academy and of the American Water Color Society.

As a recent contributor to the art of the Southwest, Gervasi brings to the Plains Museum a fresh and very colorful concept of the Southwest American way of life.

An Eastern artist until his recent move to this part of the country, Gervasi paints in straight realism. He uses bright and extremely well balanced colors instead of abstract morphology to carry over his expressionistic interpretations of the Southwest.

Looking at a Gervasi painting of the Davis Mountains or perhaps a ranch scene, the viewer begins to feel that he has been to the very spot from which the painting was done.

Capturing the mood of the Southwestern scenes he paints, Gervasi paintings bring out in sharp and colorful contrast, the parts of the landscape or western scene that the viewer might miss entirely, were he watching the actual scene.

Especially striking in the Gervasi paintings is the very evident fresh interpretation of Southwestern landscapes. Although his interpretations of Southwestern plants and animals suggests a more Eastern assemblage, they are nevertheless very refreshing and colorful. This writer actually gets a sense of pleasure from the paintings.

Outstanding among the Gervasi paintings are the snow scenes. He has used bright but well balanced sky and cloud colors to emphasis the contrasting deep,cool colors of the heavily drifted snow.

It is also notable that Gervasi has painted several ranch scenes, that have since been destroyed by the march of progress.

Especially eye-catching among these is a corral scene done in Alpine.

Although he has only been in the Southwest a few years, Gervasi has been a busy artist, compiling a wide and handsome variety of area paintings, including some of Old Mexico.

Among the scenes that might be familiar to Texans are such paintings as Chisos Mountain Range, Texas; The Kennedy Ranch:Twin Peaks, Alpine, Texas; Antelope Country; Roundup; and Monterrey, Mexico.

All are worth a visit to the second floor of the museum.

Gervasi is primarily concerned with oils and watercolors as mediums. He studied at the Art Students League of New York under the tutorship of Frank V. DuMond, George B. Bridgman, Robert Henri and others.

He has exhibited his works at the National Academy of Design, with the Allied Artists of America, the Hudson Valley Art Association the Baltimore Water Color Club, the Albany Institute of History and Art, the American Water Color Society, Audubon Artists, Academic Art Association, Baltimore Water Club and the Salmagundi Water Color Club. He is also a life member of the Art Students League of New York.

Total value of the Gervasi paintings on exhibit at the Panhandle Plains Museum is listed at $22,600.

KEEPING UP WITH THE ARTS

One of the most interesting books to appear on the scene in the past year is The Agony and the Ecstasy, a biographical novel by Irving Stone, of the life of Michelangelo.

Mr. Stone wrote Lust For Life, the life story of Van Gogh. This famous artist's life was made into a movie which featured Kirk Douglas in the starring role.

The story of the life and times of Michelangelo was written from the year of 1475 in Florence, Italy. It is at this time that Michelangelo Buonarroti, sculptor, painter, poet, architect, and engineer gave to the world the wealth of his creative genius.

This artist's days seem to be plagued by the forces of evil of the day. The life that surrounded him was one of prejudice, jealousy, and greed.

He lived in the same period as Leonardo da Vinci, Raphael, and del Sarto.

Mr. Stone went to Florence, Rome, Carrara, and Bologna. He spent six years studying four hundred and ninety-five letters and art commissions of Michelangelo. These were translated by Dr. Charles Spermoni, Professor of Italian at the University of California.

Stanley Lewis, a Canadian sculptor, was a guide for Mr. Stone in Florence, showing Michelangelo's techniques and actually teaching him the carving of marble so that he could better understand the feeling and thinking of the sculptors.

This book was chosen as a Book-of-the-Month selection. If you enjoy reading history combined with a lively biography, this book should be a real joy.

For the artistic in fashion (which is close to all our hearts, we can't deny!)---comes sun-colored glasses by Sandow. These are opposite of sunglasses and for gloomy days! These dull-day glasses have yellow lenses which make everything in sight look lovely. They bring sunshine into your life on the cloudiest of days!

Other signs of spring are the upper arm bracelets, two and three matching rings on the finger, and big lacey necklaces, jeweled shoes lots of pleats and bright sun-shiney yellow. I plan to write a history of necklaces next week. Spring is right around the corner, the fashion books say so!

Former Canyon Couple Found Dead Of Fumes

George Hillery Hardman, 77, and his wife Mittie Lodena, 70, former Canyon residents, were found dead in their home at 1118 Cleveland, Amarillo, early Sunday morning.

Apparent cause of death was asphyxiation from the fumes of a heating stove.

Mr. Hardman was born in San Saba County, May 18, 1885; and his wife was born in Ryan, Oklahoma, on March 3, 1892. They were married in Burkburnett, September 27, 1908. After living in Canyon for a number of years, they moved to Amarillo in 1941.

He was a retired carpenter, and a member of the Baptist Church. Mrs. Hardman was a member of the Emmanuel Baptist Church of Amarillo, and the Order of the Eastern Star.

The Hardmans were preceded in death by two children; a daughter, Geneva Hardman, in 1926; and a son, Eugene, on November 28, 1962.

Services for the Hardmans were held Monday in the First Baptist Church of Canyon with Dr. Strauss Atkinson, pastor officiating. Burial was in Dreamland Cemetery under the direction of LaGrone Funeral Home.

Pallbearers for Mrs. Hardman were Crawford Kiker, Jack Jennings, Riley Troth, E. J. Larson, John Bourland, and Harold Byars.

Pallbearers for Mr. Hardman were Eldred Cummings, H. H. Lawrence, Harrel Willingham, Roland Black, D. C. Gamble, and Leon Reeves.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Wayne McCormack of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Charles Donnell of Canyon, Mrs. A. W. Salyer of Clinton, Oklahoma, and Mrs. C. L. Buchanan of Canyon; and one son, M. A. Hardman of Amarillo; seven grandchildren; and four great-grandchildren.

In addition, Mr. Hardman is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Albert Hughes, Channing, Mrs. Eva Gilliland, Corvalis, Oregon; and one brother, Joe Hardman of Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Mrs. Hardman is also survived by three brothers, Finis Smith of Madera, California, Guy Smith of Amarillo, and Ed Smith of Littleton, Colorado; two sisters, Mrs. Ruth Ausley of Clovis, California, and Mrs. Annie Smith of San Antonio.

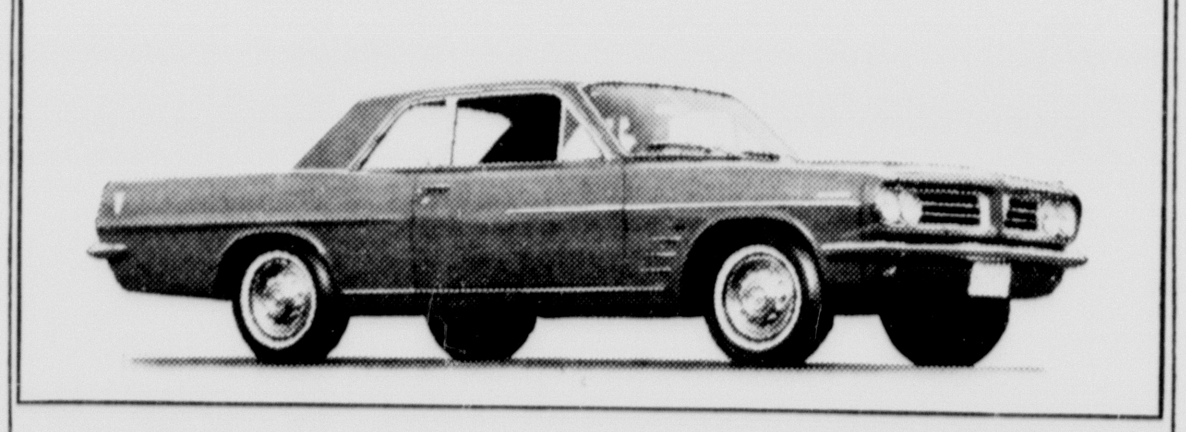
If Wide-Track is as hot as Pontiac says, why don't they put it in their Tempest?

They just did.



We can take a hint. When people are as happy with something as Pontiac owners are with Wide-Track, we're willing—nay, eager—to let everybody else in on it. That's why Tempest has a Wide-Track of its own this year. It's why you get to choose between a lively 4 and a 326-cu. in. V-8*, too. We aim to please—and if we do say so, we're pretty accurate. *Optional at extra cost.

Now there are two kinds of Wide-Track cars . . . Pontiac and Tempest

News Notes From The

RANDALL COUNTY FARM BUREAU

The Type II Brucellosis Control Program is still being worked by Randall County Farm Bureau. Your Board of Directors and some other individuals turned in another 10 signatures which brings the total signing this petition to 284 cattle owners. The magic number is 314 which leaves the petition 30 short. There are approximately 134 cattle owners on the 1961 Tax Roll listing who have not signed a petition. Some of these have not been contacted.

If you are interested in seeing that this program comes into Randall County, your Farm Bureau Office can give you a list of names to contact in your community. It is not the intent of this column to discuss the merits of this program, but we do believe you should be kept up to date on its progress.

The annual Community Meetings of Randall County Farm Bureau have now been set and a letter will go out to each member this week. Your present Board of Directors will hold the meetings in their respective Communities. Each has planned a program and your attendance will be appreciated. Here too is your opportunity to vote on the Directors you wish to represent you in the coming year.

January 22nd Park-Stone at Farm Bureau Office at 7:30 P.M.

January 24th Umbarger at the School at 7:30 P.M.

January 30th Fairview-Sunny Hill at Community Building at 7:30 P.M.

January 31st Trigg at Farm Bureau Office at 7:30 P.M.

February 1st Canyon West Side and East Side at Farm Bureau Office at 7:30 P.M.

February 4th Highland at E. E. Sharp Residence at 7:30 P.M.

February 14th Jowell at Community Center at 7:30 P.M.

Austin Newsletter, Issue No. 1, dated January 11, 1963, received at the Farm Bureau Office. You may receive this letter mailed to you direct for subscription rate of 50¢ plus first class postage. All subscriptions received during the month of January and up to and including the 15th of February will be charged a full 20 mailings postage of $1.00. The subscription total would then be $1.50 including postage. If you are interested in getting this letter which covers proposed legislation and bills passed concerning Agriculture, please stop by your Farm Bureau Office and leave your subscription. The complete file on these letters will also be kept in your Farm Bureau Office. Here are a few items taken from issue No. 1.

"Proposals are now being offered to make certain changes in the sales tax passed in 1961. The most drastic change to agricultural people is a proposal to remove the exemption off farm machinery and equipment from the list of exempt items. Farmers and ranchers would have to pay hundreds of thousands of dollars in additional taxes should this exemption be removed. This proposal is contrary to Farm Bureau policy and Farm Bureau members should start contacting their Senators and Representatives expressing their opposition."

"For the past 12 months, representatives from all segments of the insecticide industry have held meetings in order to work out an insecticide law in keeping with present day needs. Farm Bureau has worked with this group and legislation acceptable to those participating in the meeting has been drafted and is ready for introduction.

Senator George Moffett will introduce it in the Senate and several Represenatives have agreed to sponsor it in the House."

The letter also advises: "Please direct any telephone calls and correspondence relating to State legislation to Charles H.Huff in the Austin Office. The address is: 608 Page Building, Austin 1, Texas, and the phone numbers are : Greenwood 6-7017 and 6-7018."

Small Blaze At WT Dorm

A minor fire caused a lot of excitement but little damage Friday night of last week at Hudspeth Hall, a women's dormitory at West Texas State College.

Because of the weather, city firemen feared a near disaster as all units sped to the scene. The mercury stood at six degrees below zero and would have made fighting a major fire an extremely difficult undertaking.

City fire captain Joe Rice said the fire started in the ceiling of unit B, room 6 in the women's dorm, when a ceiling light fixture shorted out and ignited the beaver-board ceiling. Damage was minor.

Rice said the student occupants of the dormitory were evacuated to a connecting dormatory until the fire was put out and all danger to the girls was past.

In other activity, the fire department answered a call Thursday of last week to the Benny Cooper residence to put out a mattress fire. Damage was listed as minor.

A car belonging to Jimmy Williams, a WT student, was damaged Monday afternoon when it caught fire at a filling station on Twenty-Third Street. The car's wiring and front end paint were damaged by the blaze.

Firemen went to the service station but attendants already had rolled the car away from the gasoline pumps and had the flame under control.

SCD News

Mesquite and other shrubs are taking over much rangeland in Texas and Oklahoma. This invasion has taken place since the introduction of domestic livestock and is the result of the decline in range condition. As the taller grasses go out under heavy use, they are replaced by short grasses and weeds that are unable to prevent mesquite and woody plant invasion.

These changes are slower under some soil conditions. Once established, however, many of the invading species are too deep-rooted to be forced out by grass competition. Mechanical or chemical methods must be used.

Dozing has given good results when correctly used. Benefits are short lived unless followed up by controlling sprouts and seedlings. Sprout control is effectively accomplished with rolling types of brush cutting maintainers. This will cost about 25¢ to $1 per acre per year. Dozing will cost $5 to $15 per acre.

Chemical control with 2-4-5-T ester in oil and other sprays have given good results at approximately $3 to $4 per acre. Foliage applications should be made under favorable growing conditions, 40 to 90 days after leafing out, and with the plants in heavy foliage. Basal or aerial applications have proved equally effective in control of sagebrush, yucca, cactus and other woody invaders. Up to 90 percent and even higher kill depending on the conditions have been obtained.

Proper grazing to encourage production of grass following removal of brush will retard but not completely prevent reestablishment of brush. Retreatment will be necessary to control seedlings and regrowth.

The increased production of grass following brush control varies considerably with range site and range conditions. Mesquite removal has increased grass production up to 15 percent. On sandyland sagebrush removal has increased grass yields 25 to 100 percent.

County Agent's Column

The sixteenth annual Randall County Jr. Livestock Show and sale was a huge success. All events were held as scheduled with only minor changes made in the original plans. Hundreds of people braved some of the most severe weather in modern times to lend their encouragement and support to the Randall County 4-H and FFA youngsters.

Here is a great big "Thank You" to everyone who gave their help and support.

The long-awaited farmer's tax guides finally arrived. This publication is printed each year by the Bureau Of Internal Revenue and distributed by the Extension Service. This is an excellent guide for farmers and ranchers and for people who make tax returns for these people. I have a good supply on hand and they are free.

The final date for ordering seedling trees from the Texas Forest Service is about here. These small seedlings are made available for windbreak plantings each year. They are economically priced and will do a good job if the proper care is given to them. I have the order blanks.

The Livestock Show circuit has now started. If I am found out of the office in the Randall County Courthouse several days in the coming weeks it will be because we have 4-H Club youngsters competing in the larger state and area shows with their prize livestock.

Young Farmer Meeting
